They are not a primary tool of collection development but can be used to expand the range of materials available to library patrons. Based on the varying lending rules that affect format availability, the SCLIS will only submit requests for books. Based on the varying lending rules that affect recent publication availability, requested items must also have a date of publication that is older than one (1) year in order to be submitted. Patrons are limited to a maximum of four (4) items requested and checked out at a time. Interlibrary loans' lend period is 21 days with no renewals to ensure timely return to the lending library. Late fines on interlibrary loans are assessed at $1.00 per day per item. Interlibrary loans are only available to the patron that originally requested the item. If another patron requests the item, another interlibrary loan request must be submitted." Below the text are several input fields: "Full Name of Requestor", "Email Address/Phone Number", "Title of Book", "Author", "Library Card Number", and "Pickup Branch". The "Pickup Branch" dropdown menu is open, showing options for "Bushnell Public Library" and "E.C. Russell (Wetzel) Public Library".
